

Script: Near Sighted - Legal Costs

Injury claims from employees mean big business for their lawyers. Often, the lawyer claims more in fees than he wins for his injured client. We do our utmost to contest high lawyer fees, and knock them down to size by using experts to take each bill apart – the result: we average over 30% reduction in legal costs.

This is good news for our policyholders' overall claims costs and therefore it's good news for their premiums too. And whilst we're on the subject of claims, few things infuriate businesses more than having their Employers' Liability providers pay employee claims without telling them.

That never happens with Accel Elite: our claims handlers always keep the employer completely in the picture before settling any claims with their employees.
