Burst Pipes Won't Spoil the Party for This Policyholder

An AIG Private Client Group policyholder submitted a claim after a pipe burst in her home. There was significant water damage to the ceiling, walls, carpet, and furniture of the home's basement as well as a first-floor bathroom.

The homeowner was most upset by the thought of postponing her daughter's 15th birthday party, which was going to be held later that week in the now-flooded basement.

The AIG Private Client Group claims specialist offered the frantic policyholder a quick solution: find an alternate location for the party and we will cover the additional costs. She did just that, and that party went on as planned.
